>> Bb Ally Voice: The instructor feedback will now show in browser previews of PDFs, Word documents and PowerPoint documents. These previews are then used to identify where in the document specific accessibility issues can be found. Highlights are currently provided for these items;

- images without an appropriate alternative description,
- text fragments with insufficient contrast,
- and tables without table headings.

The instructor feedback for other accessibility issues will just show the content preview without highlights. This feature should make it significantly easier to identify issues in a document and should help cut down remediation time dramatically.

End.
