The Hub- our central meeting point for all. We are investing in a major capital redevelopment project which will see new ensuite accommodation, a new Students' Union and outdoor spaces. We've designed it in collaboration with our current students to become the new social heart of the campus.

Right at the centre of the development will be the brand-new £8.5m Students' Union (SU) facility. The building will feature flexible indoor spaces which can be used for different day and night-time events. There will be society rooms, informal open spaces and the technology to create more interactive experiences. And the social spaces will spill out into the outdoors too. Think open air cinema. Food markets. Or just space to meet, relax, belong.

Alongside our social space we've planned our newest accommodation. Our halls are already in the top 5 nationally, as voted by students in the WhatUni Student Choice Awards 2022. And we're investing £23.6m to add another 232 ensuite rooms to allow as many students as possible to enjoy our outstanding student experience.

The Arts Centre at Edge Hill University is one of the most exciting places to be on campus. Meet some of the biggest names in comedy. Our audiences have met James Acaster, Katherine Ryan, Joel Dommett and Russell Kane. Events, performances and cinema are all free for Edge Hill students. There are also lots of opportunities for Edge Hill students to perform at The Arts Centre, including regular Open Mic Nights, Student Talent Nights, and Poetry Slams. Designed to entertain students, local and regional communities.

The Red Bar is located on The Arts Centre. It is a bar and café and it is open to students, staff and visitors.

Event listings can be found here: edgehill.ac.uk/departments/support/artscentre/whats-on

Practical information

Buy Travel Insurance

Make sure you have travel insurance that covers healthcare and repatriation. The UK's healthcare system is free at the point of use, but you are likely to be asked to pay after treatment (please note, this has become much more common in recent years).

Bring an adapter

You will need a three pin plug adapter for the UK if travelling from most countries. Ideally these should be as small as possible, as bulky adapters will block others' use of dual plugs (eg in a conference room). Some newer hotels now provide USB plugs for devices. You may also want to bring a portable charging device, as plugs in the conference rooms are limited.

Mobile phone roaming

Check roaming arrangements for your phone in the UK. Whilst Wi-Fi is available on campus (see below) there is very limited free Wi-Fi in public spaces in the UK, and it is not always secure. E-sims may be an option to order before you arrive, if your phone is compatible with the technology.

Packing for British Weather

August is often the UK's warmest and driest month: but it can be wet. You are recommended to bring layers and a waterproof coat.

For a more detailed forecast: Ormskirk weather from the BBC

Free Wi-Fi on campus

Eduroam and a guest Wi-Fi option are available free to you when you are on campus. The guest Wi-Fi option will ask you to register (via Sky) before using the service for the first time. These connections are suitable for business use but may struggle with streaming video etc.
